

Grab your reader right here. This is the place to make a

The Pleb which stands for the common person. And a plebiscite is any expression or determination of public opinion on some matter. And Assembly which means: A group of people gathered together in one place for a common purpose: "an assembly of scholars and poets". In this case an assembly of common people.

